EmLogis and Decision Critical Form a Strategic Relationship to Provide Comprehensive Staffing Assistance to Healthcare Facilities

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, November 7, 2005 — To deliver new efficiency to long term care providers, EmLogis, Incorporated (EmLogis) and Decision Critical, Incorporated (Decision Critical) have formed a relationship to jointly market each others products to long term care providers. The combination of proactive preferential staff modeling and caregiver skill competency management has proven to significantly reduce labor costs by removing the inherent inefficiencies associated with the scheduling and skill management of hourly employees.

"The EmLogis and Decision Critical relationship provides healthcare facilities with the workforce efficiency solutions they want," said Martin Estill, CEO of EmLogis. "All of us here are excited about our relationship with Decision Critical, they are proven professionals with a quality suite of products and an excellent reputation."

"EmLogis' Employee Logistics Management System is a perfect compliment to the solutions provided by Decision Critical," said Kenneth W. Dion, RN, President and CEO of Decision Critical. "The combination of these two solutions will result in a comprehensive scheduling, staffing, trend analysis and competency solution for our customers."

The EmLogis and Decision Critical relationship brings together the innovative leaders in labor scheduling and skill competency management.
